GRANDE IMPERO IV

VILLARI

The Grande Impero Collection refers back to the Imperial Style, which originated in France during the second phase of the Neoclassical period (late 18th and early 19th centuries). Its slenderness of line, sober elegance, and the subdued Romanticism already evident in its reinterpretation of the classical model fully vindicate the principle of imitation on which these works are based, making it a valid expression of Neoclassical taste and style. These artefacts have been created using traditional techniques for both the modelling and the decoration, every detail of which has been executed using precious enamels and fine 24-carats gold. They are an example of the high degree of taste and technical skill achieved by our master craftsmen. To identify a genuine VILLARI artefact, it is vital to verify its origin by checking the guarantee card, the VILLARI trade mark, and the “Made in Italy” mark.
